2 Choose how to receive your benefit ➤

Please carefully read all four of the following options before making your selection.

Option 1 – Full benefit

You are eligible to be paid your full benefit if you have left employment after reaching age 55, or if you have retired due to ill health.

I am eligible to be paid my full benefit, and want to receive it as a:

Lump sum

OR

Defined pension payable for life

OR

Part defined pension/part lump sum (this is not available if you have retired due to ill health)

OR

If you are taking a part defined pension/part lump sum, please tell us how you would like to split your benefit:

as a lump sum and the rest as a defined pension payable for life.

as a fortnightly defined pension and the rest as a lump sum.

¹ If your name has changed and you work for the Queensland Government or default employer, let your payroll office know and they will then let us know. Otherwise, please send us a certified copy of either a marriage certificate or other legal change of name document.

Option 2 – Working past age 65

If you turn 65 and continue your current employment, you are entitled to two-sevenths of your retirement benefit, and the remainder will be payable to you when you permanently retire. I am age 65 and am still working and want to receive two-sevenths of my benefit as a:

Lump sum

OR

Defined pension payable for life

OR

Part defined pension/part lump sum

If you are taking a part defined pension/part lump sum, please tell us how you would like to split your benefit:

as a lump sum and the rest as a defined pension payable for life.

as a fortnightly defined pension and the rest as a lump sum.

Option 3 – Retrenchment benefit

I am under age 55 and have been retrenched and want to receive my benefit as a lump sum.

Please attach a copy of the official correspondence from your employer confirming the circumstances and conditions of you leaving employment.

Option 4 – Resignation benefit

I am under age 55 and have resigned and want to:

Keep my benefit in my State or Police account until age 55

OR

Transfer my State or Police account to my QSuper Accumulation account

OR

Withdraw my cash value (your cash value is your personal contributions and interest paid before 1 July 1999.)

To keep your full benefit, you need to keep it in your State or Police account until age 55 or transfer it to a QSuper Accumulation account. If you are under age 55 and have resigned and choose to transfer your State or Police account to your QSuper Accumulation account, your benefit is preserved, which means you can't withdraw any of it as cash until you retire. This includes your personal contributions and interest paid before 1 July 1999.

If you are under age 55 and have resigned and choose to withdraw your cash value, you will lose employer contributions that are over the minimum amount required under Commonwealth superannuation legislation.

3 Tell us where to send your benefit

You only need to fill out this section if you are taking out some or all of your benefit as a lump sum. You can choose more than one option, but all should add up to your total lump sum benefit.

There are minimum amounts and age requirements for opening an Income account and/or Lifetime Pension. To open an Income account and/or Lifetime Pension, you'll first need to read the Product Disclosure Statement for Income Account and Lifetime Pension and then complete the form at the back of the guide. If you're under age 60, you'll also need to complete and sign a Tax File Number Declaration form.

If you left employment between age 55 and 59 (not due to ill health), please select one of the following:

I have permanently retired

OR

I intend to find gainful employment of 10 hours or more a week

Transfer to a QSuper Accumulation account

$ gross (before tax) OR

% of your account

Pay directly into my bank account

If you're under age 60, tax may be deducted from your cash withdrawal. Find out more in the Tax Explanation factsheet at qsuper.qld.gov.au/factsheets or call us and we'll send you a copy, free of charge.

$ gross (before tax) OR

% of your account

Transfer to an Income account

$ gross (before tax) OR

% of your account

Transfer to a Lifetime Pension

$ gross (before tax) OR

% of your account

Transfer to another super fund

Before we transfer money to another super fund, we need to make sure the fund complies with the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993. Please note, if you've withdrawn money as cash it can't be rolled over to another super account.

4 Investing, withdrawing, or transferring your State or Police Account

4.1 QSuper Accumulation account

If you are investing some or all of your lump sum benefit in your QSuper Accumulation account, or you are under age 55 and transferring your State or Police account to a QSuper Accumulation account, please tell us how you would like your money invested.

Invest my transferred balance according to my current investment preference or use the default option.

OR

Invest my transferred balance in the following way:

Investment option	Allocation	Investment option	Allocation
Lifetime	<input type="text" value=""/>	Cash	<input type="text" value=""/>
Moderate	<input type="text" value=""/>	Diversified Bonds	<input type="text" value=""/>

Socially Responsible	<input type="text" value=""/>	Australian Shares	<input type="text" value=""/>
Aggressive	<input type="text" value=""/>	Total <small>(must add up to 100%)</small>	<input type="text" value=""/>

Payments can't be made directly into Self Invest. To transfer money into and out of Self Invest, log in to Member Online.

Accumulation account insurance

If eligible, you may receive default insurance cover with an Accumulation account. For available insurance and information on eligibility terms and conditions, please refer to the Insurance Guide.

I do not want to receive default cover.

This means we will not automatically provide you with cover again, even if your employment situation changes. If you want to take out cover again, you can apply any time, subject to the eligibility terms and conditions at that time.

Default insurance cover is provided in addition to any personalised Accumulation account insurance you may hold. We will not cancel any existing personalised cover as a result of this selection. (However, there are various circumstances when cover will end. See the Insurance Guide at qsuper.qld.gov.au/pds)

4.2 Financial institution details

If you have asked to receive some or all of your benefit as a defined pension payable for life, and/or a single cash payment (your cash value or from a lump sum), please tell us where you would like us to pay the money.

We can only make payments into an Australian bank, credit union, or building society account that's in your name or a joint name. This means we can't make payments into a business, trust, or loan account.

We pay pensions straight into your account with your financial institution, so make sure you give us all relevant details.

You can get a copy from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) or call us to request a copy, free of charge.

5 Proving your identity

You can prove your identity by either:

Option 1 – Electronic identification

(not available for people currently living overseas)

To prove your identity electronically, please provide us with your driver's licence or passport number.

From here, QSuper will provide your name, address, and date of birth to a credit reporting agency (CRA) to check if your personal information matches your credit information file with the CRA. This will allow us to verify you under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 before making your payment. It doesn't give us access to other information about you, our request won't be recorded on your credit information file, and the CRA can't use it for anything else. If we cannot identify you in this way, we will write to you advising the name of the CRA and another way to verify your identity.

I confirm that I am authorised to provide the personal details presented and I consent to my information being checked with the document issuer or official record holder.

Driver's licence number

If using your driver's licence as proof of identity, please also give us your driver's licence card number, which is different to your licence number.

Option 2 – Certified identification

You can post, email, or fax us certified copies of your identification document as explained in the Proving Your Identity factsheet on our website.
